MANAGEMENT

Edward J. DeBartolo, Jr. — Owner

Edward J. DeBartolo, Jr., wasted no time reaching the NFL's elite. Entering his 11th season as owner of the San Francisco 49ers, he is one of the most respected and caring owners in the League.

One of the youngest owners in the NFL, Eddie (as he is known to friends and 49er family) is also among the most successful owners in recent League history.

DeBartolo purchased a struggling San Francisco franchise in 1977, dug in, rolled up his sleeves, and molded the club into a perennial playoff team during his first decade in the NFL. Since 1981, for example, the Niners have won 68 games (counting postseason) . . . an average of 11 per year, and have reached postseason play five times.

Additionally, San Francisco is one of only two teams to make the playoffs each of the past four seasons (with the L.A. Rams) . . . and, the Niners are the only ones in the NFL to have won 10-or-more games in each of the past five full NFL seasons: 1981 (13-3), 1983 (10-6), 1984 (15-1), 1985 (10-6), and 1986 (10-5-1) (The NFLPA strike shortened the 1982 campaign).

As chief executive officer of the 49ers, DeBartolo's professional responsibilities only begin with the San Francisco football franchise, since he is also president and chief administrative officer of The Edward J. DeBartolo Corporation.

Although each title represents a facet of his career as separate as the base cities are distant (Redwood City, CA, and Youngstown, OH), DeBartolo's style and savvy have earned him continued success in both arenas.

As Forty Niners' owner, Eddie sees his primary function as providing emotional and financial support to his players, coaches, and staff. When he purchased 90 percent interest in the franchise from the Morabito family in 1977, he promised "unbending patience". And he proved true to his word as his patience held through the transition seasons of 1977-80.

With the hiring of Bill Walsh, it became easier to retain that confidence in his team's potential . . . and soon, the faith paid off to the tune of world championships in 1981 and '84; NFC West crowns in 1981, '83, '84, and '86; and playoff berths in five of the past six seasons.

Members of the 49ers' organization have continually praised him as a "coach's owner . . . a player's owner . . . a man who appreciates the effort, win or lose . . ."

As president and chief administrative officer of the DeBartolo Corporation, Mr. DeBartolo, Jr., oversees the growth and operation of one of the country's top real estate development and management firms. Founded in 1948 by his father, Edward J. DeBartolo (chairman and chief executive officer), the DeBartolo Corporation is one of America's greatest business success stories.

During the past four decades, the Corporation has developed over 70 million square feet of prime retail space across the country. Currently, the firm operates over 64 million square feet — making DeBartolo the nation's largest developer and manager of shopping malls. Office towers, mixed-use projects, hotels, and professional sports enterprises are also among its holdings nationwide.

Following his graduation from Notre Dame in 1968, DeBartolo began an executive training program which gave him valuable experience in each of the Corporation's departments. He was appointed vice president in 1971 and became executive vice president five years later.

In 1979, DeBartolo assumed his current position and responsibility for the Corporation's 14,000 professionals nationwide.

DeBartolo has also actively supported charitable institutions. He has given generously of his time and influence to help St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital, the Heart Fund, Cancer Crusade, the United Way, and numerous other worthwhile organizations.

He received the 1982 Salvation Army Citation of Merit in recognition of his humanitarian efforts. The award is the organization's highest honor, and had previously been bestowed upon such notables as Dwight D. Eisenhower, William Randolph Hearst, Cecil B. DeMille, and Helen Hayes. At 35, DeBartolo was the youngest honoree in history.

In 1985, DeBartolo was honored by the Boys' Town of Italy as its Man-of-the-Year for his support of that organization (which aids homeless and needy children). He was also the 1985 recipient of the prestigious Warner Award, the highest national individual honor given by the Pop Warner (youth) Football Association.

DeBartolo was national chairman for the 19th Annual Victor Awards, sponsored by the Sportsmen's Club For The City of Hope in '85, and served as national banquet chairman for the 1986 recipient of the City of Hope's "Spirit of Life Award".

Born and raised in Youngstown, OH, Eddie has actively supported that city's organizations. For example, he has served as director of the Youngstown Youth Center, and as a member of the Youngstown State University Board of Trustees.

Eddie is married to his childhood sweetheart, the former Cynthia Papalia, who prefers the nickname Candy. They have three daughters: Lisa Marie, Tiffanie Lynne, and Nicole Anne.

49ers Strike Gold!

The 49ers won Super Bowl XVI to culminate a 16-win season, defeating the Cincinnati Bengals in the process, 49 days after they had defeated the Bengals during the regular season, in the 49th NFL World Championship game in history, on a date 134 years to the day that prospectors discovered gold for the first time in Northern California, at Sutter's Mill, Coloma, California, January 24, 1848.

Bill Walsh

PRESIDENT - HEAD COACH

Bill Walsh has established a winning tradition during his eight years at the helm of the Forty Niners.

In 1986, Walsh led San Francisco into postseason action for the fifth time in the past six years, as his team won its fourth NFC Western Division flag since 1981. With four straight playoff appearances, San Francisco is tied with the Los Angeles Rams for the NFL's longest current consecutive postseason streak.

Walsh has continued his winning ways, while constantly infusing new talent into the squad.

Last season, for example, San Francisco acquired 13 new players via the draft, trades, and the signing of free agents. Eight of those 13 were in the starting lineup at some time during the '86 season.

This ability to win through transition has propelled Walsh to the top among all-time 49ers' head coaches. The 49ers are the only NFL team to register 10-or-more wins in each of the past five full-seasons 1981 (13-3), '83 (10-6), '84 (15-1), '85 (10-6), and '86 (10-5-1) — (1982 was a nine-game, strike-shortened slate). With the 10 victories last year, Walsh upped his career wins count as the Niners' head coach to 76. That mark supasses the total of 72, held by Lawrence T. "Buck" Shaw. Additionally, Bill's .584 (76-54-1) winning percentage is second only to Shaw's .638 mark among all-time 49ers' coaches.

In eight seasons, he has completely remolded a struggling 1979 team into one of the premier franchises in the League. With wins in Super Bowl XVI (26-21 over Cincinnati) and Super Bowl XIX (38-16 over Miami), the two-time NFL Coach-of-the-Year (1981 and 1984) joins only three other coaches with multiple undefeated appearances in Super Bowl competition. Chuck Noll (Steelers, 4-0), Tom Flores (Raiders, 2-0), Walsh (2-0), and the late Vince Lombardi (Packers, 2-0) are the only members of an elite coaching fraternity which features multiple wins and no defeats in Super Bowl contests.

Since becoming the Oakland Raiders' backfield coach in 1966 under then Head Coach Al Davis, Walsh has gained a reputation for his creativity. In addition to developing the highly acclaimed Joe Montana, Walsh is generally given credit for the development of Cincinnati's Ken Anderson and San Diego's Dan Fouts. Anderson won two NFL passing titles under Walsh's tutelage when Walsh was an assistant with the Bengals in the late '60s and early '70s. In one season as offensive coordinator in San Diego (1976), Fouts says Walsh turned his entire career around. Walsh also developed two NCAA passing champions (Guy Benjamin and Steve Dils) during his two years as head coach at Stanford (1977-78), and his list of either Pro Bowl or All-America pass receivers includes Bob Trumpy, Eric Crabtree, Chip Myers, Isaac Curtis, Charlie Joiner, James Lofton, Ken Margerum, Jerry Rice, and Dwight Clark. He also is credited with cajoling top seasons out of quarterbacks Greg Cook, Sam Wyche, Virgil Carter, Jeff Kemp, and Steve DeBerg; and receivers Speedy Thomas, Pat Curran, Charle Young, Russ Francis, Earl Cooper, Freddie Solomon and Roger Craig.

Walsh's first coaching experience came as a graduate assistant at San Jose State. As an undergraduate in the early '50s, he had played both ways at end for Coach Bob Bronzan. He entered high school coaching in the San Francisco East Bay area at Fremont's Washington Union High School in 1957. By his second season there, his team was 9-1 and conference champion. Prior to that, Washington Union had been 1-26. It was a complete turnaround, and it would become a familiar pattern when Walsh again became a head coach two decades later.

He began a long apprenticeship as an assistant coach in 1960, when he became defensive coordinator on the staff of Coach Marv Levy at the University of California. In 1963, he moved across the Bay to Stanford as Coach John Ralston's administrative assistant (recruiting coordinator) and defensive backfield coach. In 1966, Bill joined the Raiders. Then just over a year later, when the American Football League expanded into Cincinnati, Walsh became Paul Brown's quarterbacks and receivers coach.

Following eight prosperous seasons with the Bengals, Walsh joined Coach Tommy Prothro for a year as offensive coordinator of the Chargers, then moved to Stanford in '77 as head coach. His two Stanford teams were 17-7 overall and captured bowl wins at the conclusion of both seasons — the Bluebonnet and Sun Bowls. Stanford had not played in a bowl game in five years prior to '77.

Edward J. DeBartolo, Jr., the Forty Niners' owner, hired Walsh as the 11th head coach in San Francisco history, Jan. 9, 1979. Walsh took over a team that had gone 31-55 in the previous 86 games, an expansion-like team of talent that had finished 2-14 in 1978 and near the bottom of the League in nearly every offensive statistical category.

* * * * *

Bill was born Nov. 30, 1931, in Los Angeles. Following his sophomore year in high school, his parents moved to Oregon for one year, then moved to Hayward, CA, in the San Francisco East Bay area, where Bill finished high school.

Following graduation from Hayward High and two years at San Mateo Junior College, he enrolled at San Jose State, where he majored in education. He obtained his master's degree in 1959 and put in a two-year hitch in the U.S. Army.

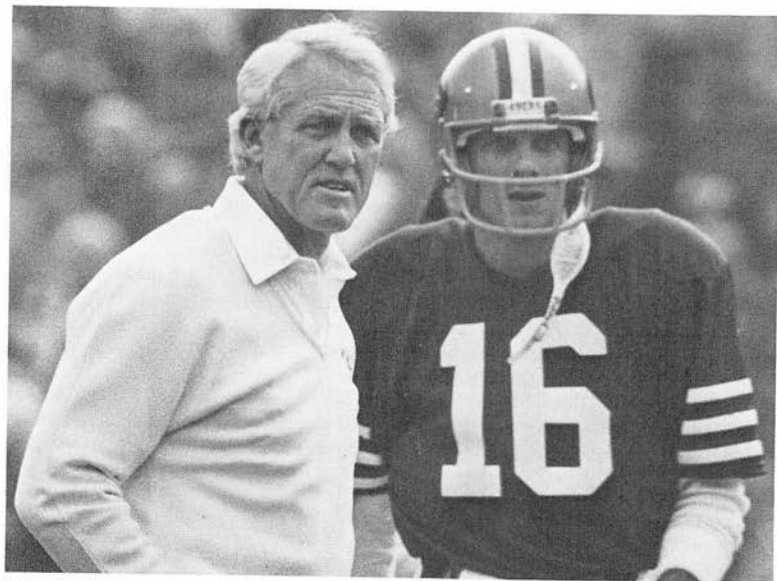

A tennis enthusiast and a constant reader of current events and historical non-fiction works, Bill lives with his wife, Geri, and daughter, Elizabeth (5-28-71), in Menlo Park, CA. Bill and Geri also have two grown sons — Steve (12-27-55) and Craig (7-10-59).

John E. McVay

VICE PRESIDENT-GENERAL MANAGER

John McVay, who handles the bulk of the team's contract negotiations among his many other administrative responsibilities, is in his ninth year with the club, and his fourth as vice president-general manager.

McVay has been San Francisco's chief administrator (under Bill Walsh) since the conclusion of the 1981 season when he was appointed administrative vice president. McVay began his career with the 49ers in January of 1979 as the team's director of player personnel. He was promoted to director of football operations in 1980 and served in the administrative vice president's capacity until being named vice president and general manager in 1983.

All eight department heads (marketing, scouting, public relations, business, tickets, training, luxury suites and equipment) report directly to McVay. John coordinates the movement of each department on the counsel of President-Head Coach Walsh and team owner Edward J. DeBartolo, Jr. The three embody the major decision-making element of the organization.

A native of Bellaire, OH, and a product of the famous high school football town of Massillon, OH, McVay came to the 49ers after having served the New York Giants as head coach for two and one-half seasons (1976-78).

He had been hired by Giants' Owner Wellington Mara in 1975 as an assistant coach in charge of research and development, but was elevated to head coach in the middle of the '76 season when Bill Arnsparger was released. His won-lost record with the Giants was 14-23.

Prior to joining the Giants, McVay was the head coach and general manager of the Memphis Southmen of the World Football League, where his teams were 24-7. McVay had left the University of Dayton, where he was head football coach for nine years (1965-73), and athletic director in '72 and '73, to join the Southmen.

McVay excelled as a player before entering coaching and administrative work. He was an All-Ohio center as a Massillon schoolboy, and an All-Midwest selection and two-time team MVP as a center at Miami University in Oxford, OH, where he played for both Woody Hayes and Ara Parseghian. Because of John's lack of size, Hayes awarded McVay Miami's last available football scholarship his freshman year, and John went on to become a four-year regular for the Redskins. He captained the team as a senior, and today is a member of that school's athletic Hall of Fame.

McVay went from Miami to become one of its 60-plus "Cradle of Coaches" alumni who have been successful collegiate and professional football coaches and administrators throughout the U.S. and Canada.

His coaching career began with a three-year stint at Lancaster (OH) High School, and he moved to Franklin (OH) High for one year, before a five-year stay (41-7) at Canton (OH) Central Catholic High School. From the prep ranks he joined Duffy Daugherty's staff at Michigan State as an assistant in 1962 and stayed three years. From MSU, McVay took over the Dayton post, and led the Flyers to their first winning grid season in 10 years when they finished 8-2 in 1966.

John's three sons are former college gridgers: Jim was a quarterback at Dayton, while John Jr. and Tim were defensive backs at Miami of Ohio and Indiana, respectively. Jim, who joined the NFL ranks during the past offseason as Tampa Bay's Director of Administration, wore a QB number on his collegiate jersey. Tim and John Jr., however, followed in their father's footsteps by wearing No. 49 during their collegiate careers (as John Sr. wore for the Miami Redskins).

John and his wife, Lee, also have a son (Rick Robinson), along with six grandsons. The McVays live in nearby Belmont, CA.

Carmen A. Policy

VICE PRESIDENT — GENERAL COUNSEL

Carmen A. Policy begins his fifth year as Vice President and General Counsel for the San Francisco Forty Niners. His position allows him to work very closely with owner Edward J. DeBartolo, Jr., President-Head Coach Bill Walsh, and Vice President and General Manager John McVay, relative to legal and business considerations that are involved in the day-to-day operation of the club. He also coordinates and handles many of the team's legal duties and dealings with the National Football League.

Carmen is a graduate of Georgetown University Law Center and is a member of the law firm of Flask & Policy, which is located in Youngstown, OH. He has been a personal friend and attorney to Edward J. DeBartolo, Jr. for approximately 20 years. The Forty Niners have become his "first love" in terms of his professional life, and he is very proud to refer to himself as a member of the DeBartolo-Forty Niner family.

NINER'S NOTES

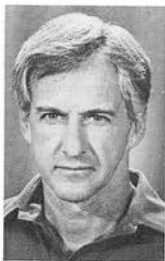

When the Forty Niners play their 1987 home opener versus the Philadelphia Eagles Sunday Sept. 27th, it will be the team's 49th (counting five postseason contests) consecutive sellout crowd at Candlestick Park.

COACHES
STAFF

1987 COACHES AND STAFF

George Seifert — DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Under coordinator George Seifert, San Francisco's defense tied Kansas City for NFL leadership in 1986 with 49 takeaways.

George begins his eighth season of coaching in the NFL (the first three as San Francisco's secondary coach) following 15 years in the collegiate ranks.

After graduating from Utah (1963), Seifert served a six-month tour of duty with the U.S. Army. He returned to Utah as a graduate assistant coach in 1964. Then, in 1965, George was named head coach at Westminster College in Salt Lake City, UT.

He moved on to assistant positions at Iowa (1966) and Oregon (1967-71), before joining Stanford University's staff (1972-74) as secondary coach (transforming the defensive backfield into the Pac-8 Conference's best statistically in both '72 and '73).

Seifert left Stanford in 1975 to become head coach at Cornell University (1975-76), but returned to Stanford to join Bill Walsh's staff in 1977. The Cardinal pass defense was second in the Pac-10 in both '78 and '79.

In 1980, George joined Walsh again, this time with the 49ers as secondary coach.

A native of San Francisco, and a graduate of Poly High School there, Seifert was born Jan. 22, 1940. He and his wife, Linda, have two children (Eve and Jason) and live in Sunnyvale, CA.

Jerry Attaway — PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT

Jerry Attaway's role includes handling dietary and nutritional needs of each player, while supervising weight and exercise training.

Jerry begins his fifth season as 49ers' coordinator for physical development, following five years in a similar capacity at the University of Southern California.

Attaway is a product of UC-Davis and Cal State-Sacramento. An injury cut short his football career at UC-Davis, and he finished his undergraduate work in physical education at Sacramento State in 1972.

Following graduation, he served as an assistant coach at the College of Idaho for three years and then spent the next two seasons as an assistant at Utah State, prior to his USC stint.

During his first three years at Southern Cal, Jerry was the assistant offensive line coach as well as coordinator for physical development. He concentrated on those latter duties his last two years with the Trojans.

Jerry was born Jan. 3, 1946, in Susanville, CA. He is single and lives in San Carlos, CA.

Dennis Green — RECEIVERS

In 1986, San Francisco led the NFC with 6,082 total yards gained. Included in that total, was a team-record 4,096 net yards from the receivers under the direction of Dennis Green.

Dennis returned to the Niners, and Bill Walsh, last year following five seasons as head coach at Northwestern University.

Green served on Walsh's initial 49ers' coaching staff (1979), handling receivers and special teams. Green returned to Stanford as offensive coordinator under Paul Wiggan in 1980, prior to accepting the head job at Northwestern in 1981.

In his second season at the Northwestern helm, Green was named Big Ten and District IV Coach-of-the-Year in 1982. He led the east squad to victory in the '84 Hula Bowl, establishing a game record with 336 passing yards.

Literally took-over Packers' game with Niners down 14-0 and playing with third-string quarterback (Mike Moroski)... Lott's first theft against Green Bay set-up Niners' second touchdown to tie score at 14... Returned second interception 57 yards for score that gave team 21-14 lead, enroute to 31-17 victory over the Packers... Again named NFC Defensive Player-of-the-Week for effort against Packers...

Returned to lead team with nine total tackles at Washington (11-17)... Recorded second sack of season, again vs. Atlanta Falcons (11-23)... Had ninth game of five-or-more tackles, and had a pass defended vs. N.Y. Giants (12-1)... Picked off ninth pass of year vs. N.Y. Jets (12-7)... 1985: TEAM LEADER with six interceptions... His 104 tackles were second only to Riki Ellison's 106... Moved from cornerback to safety prior to fifth game... Recorded 80 tackles and five interceptions following position switch... Fractured and lacerated fifth finger of left hand in season finale against Dallas (12-22).

1984: Played cornerback for first eight games, before moving to safety for next four contests... Returned to corner for final four regular season games and playoffs... Tied as TEAM LEADER with four interceptions... Selected to NFC Pro Bowl team.

1983: TEAM LEADER with 108 total tackles, nearly 30 more than any other Niners' defender... Named Defensive Back-of-the-Year by NFL Alumni Association... Named all-pro and selected to NFC Pro Bowl team.

1982: Returned one of two interceptions for score that established TEAM RECORD for MOST CAREER TDS ON INTERCEPTIONS at four (increased mark to five with '86 TD)... Selected to NFC Pro Bowl team.

1981: Had seven interceptions... Set TEAM RECORD by returning three for scores... Only second rookie in NFL history to accomplish that feat (other was Lem Barney—'67)... Finished as runner-up for NFL Rookie-of-the-Year honors (won by Lawrence Taylor of N.Y. Giants)... Named all-pro and selected to NFC Pro Bowl team.

CAREER: Eighth player selected (second defensive back, behind Kenny Easley, 4th—Seattle) in '81 draft... +San Francisco lost Western Conference playoff to Detroit, 31-27.

★Nine-game season due to players strike.

The 49ers' Historical Highlights

Here are the team's historical highlights beginning with its first year in the NFL:

1950 — The 49ers fell flat on their faces in their NFL debut, winning only three games. A rival coach described them as "not big enough or tough enough."

1951 — In an amazing reversal of form sparked by a great rookie group, the 49ers were in the race to the final day and finished only a half game off the top. Led by Hardy Brown and his famed "shoulder tackle" the club had one of the toughest defensive units in the league. Y.A. Tittle and Billy Wilson began their great careers.

1952 — After a blazing start, the 49ers slumped in mid-season. Hugh (The King) McElhenny came off the University of Washington campus to become "Player of the Year" and the most feared runner in football.

1953 — The 49ers had their best NFL showing, 9-3, normally good enough for a championship. Detroit, however, was 10-2. Two of the San Francisco losses came with Y.A. Tittle sidelined because of a severe facial injury. The three defeats were by a total of nine points. Joe (Jet) Perry became one of the few players in pro history to gain more than 1,000 yards in a single season. Gordy Soltau was the league's top scorer for the second straight year.

1954 — Early momentum was broken by injuries to key players such as Y.A. Tittle, Hugh McElhenny, and Joe Perry. Perry gained more than 1,000 yards again, the first man ever to achieve this distinction.

1955 — With Hugh McElhenny hobbled by a foot injury, the 49ers had their second worst season in history under Norman P. Strader who succeeded Buck Shaw as a head coach.

1956 — In Frankie Albert's first year at the helm, the 49ers were bogged in last place at mid-season with a 1-6 record. They won four and tied one of their last five games for a brilliant stretch drive.

1957 — This undoubtedly was one of the most emotional and dramatic seasons in 49ers history. Every game was a "Cliffhanger" and the "Alley-Oop" pass from Y.A. Tittle to rookie R.C. Owens became a household byword. Emotions reached a peak when the beloved Tony Morabito collapsed and died of a heart attack at the Chicago Bears game on Oct. 27. Trailing 17-7, the 49ers fought back for a great victory, 21-17. The magnificent Billy Wilson caught a pass from Tittle for the winning touchdown in the fourth quarter. Tied with Detroit at 8-4 when the season ended, the 49ers lost the playoff game, 31-27, although they held a 27-7 lead in the third quarter.

1958 — An up-and-down season which finished on a high note when Green Bay and Baltimore were defeated in the last two games. The 6-6 record, however, was blackened by the 33-3 and 56-7 lacerations at the hands of Los Angeles and Frankie Albert resigned at the end of the year.

1959 — With Howard W. (Red) Hickey in charge, the 49ers were in contention all the way and John Brodie came into his own at quarterback when he led the team to a 21-20 upset of Cleveland. J.D. Smith, converted from a defensive back, became the second 49er to accumulate more than 1,000 yards rushing.

1960 — Howard W. (Red) Hickey saved a seemingly hopeless season when he installed his Shotgun attack and the club captured four of the last five games to finish in a tie for second place. Third-string quarterback Bobby Waters threw the passes that upset Baltimore, 30-22, in the final two minutes.

1961 — The success of Howard W. Hickey's Shotgun amazed the football world, especially the 49-0 victory over Detroit. Quarterback Bill Kilmer, a passing-running rookie from UCLA, was made to order for the new offense. When the Shotgun was stopped, John Brodie took over again in the "T" and had the finest season in 49er QB annals. Indicating the evenness of NFL competition, the 49ers were playing for a second-place tie, plus a trip to the Runner-up Bowl at Miami, or a fifth-place position on the last day of the season. The Colts again won by three points, but 1961 must remain as one of the most exciting and interesting years in 49ers history.

1962 — For the first time since 1956, the 49ers finished a frustrating season with more defeats than victories. In so doing, the honored adage of "it's easier to win at home than on the road," proved false — the 49ers won only one of seven at home, but captured five of seven road contests.

1963 — Injuries in multitude to key personnel started the 49ers off to a disappointing 2-12 league season. One of the victories, however, was a smashing 20-14 upset of ultimate World Champion Chicago, the only league defeat suffered by the Bears all season.

1964 — Club chief executive Victor P. Morabito died of a heart attack in May. Injury to key personnel prevented the 49ers from gaining enough offensive momentum to forge a winning season although they proved to be one of the toughest defensive clubs in the league. Outstanding rookie performances by end Dave Parks, quarterback George Mira and linebacker Dave Wilcox also took some of the sting from the 4-10 overall record.

1965 — Outstanding offensive performances enabled the 49ers to jump from the bottom to fourth place in the Western Division as the team led the NFL in both scoring and total offense. John Brodie was the most productive passer in the NFL, Dave Parks led the league in receiving and rookie Ken Willard and veteran John David Crow, acquired in an off-season trade, led a strong ground game. The over-all record was 7-6-1 and the season-opening 52-24 beating of the Chicago Bears marked the largest number of points ever scored by the 49ers in NFL play.

1966 — After a somewhat slow start, the 49ers got in gear just before midway in the season and became one of only two teams to beat the eventual World Champion Green Bay Packers. After that, they rolled to a respectable 6-6-2 record and were in the battle for second place in the Western Division until the final league game. Guard John Thomas and end Dave Parks were all-pro, and they joined guard Howard Mudd, center Bruce Bosley, fullback Ken Willard and linebacker Dave Wilcox in the Pro Bowl.

1967 — An auspicious start (they were 5-1) disintegrated into disappointment for the 49ers as injuries took a heavy toll and a six-game losing streak took them out of the running. Quarterback George Mira came off the bench to lead the squad to two season-ending victories and salvage a 7-7 record. There were bright spots however, as, with John Brodie in fine form, the 49ers were the only team to beat the power-laden Rams in a league game, guard Howard Mudd and linebacker Dave Wilcox were named to all-pro teams, and Mudd and center Bruce Bosley played in the Pro Bowl for the second straight time.

1968 — Under new coach Dick Nolan, the 49ers posted a 7-6-1 record as the season turned on key wins over New York Giants, 26-10, and Green Bay, 27-20. Brilliant performances by QB John Brodie, receiver Clifton McNeil and running back Ken Willard led a prolific offense, while defensive tackle Charlie Krueger, linebacker Dave Wilcox and defensive back Kermit Alexander, sparked a revitalized defense. McNeil and guard Howard Mudd were chosen All-NFL, and joined by Wilcox, Willard and Alexander in the Pro Bowl.

1969 — Beseated by injuries that nearly decimated the defensive unit, the 49ers struggled through the early part of the season, went five games before beating Baltimore, the first time they had done that in 13 previous games. It got a little better after that (final record was 4-8-2) and five players — Jimmy Johnson, Dave Wilcox, Elmer Collett, Ken Willard and rookie Gene Washington — were selected for the Pro Bowl. Johnson was also all-pro and winner of the Eshmont Award.

1970 — This was the greatest year since the club became a member of the NFL in 1950. The 10-3 record was the best as an NFL club, the Western Division (NFC) Championship was the first in the NFL. In a season of superlatives, John Brodie was the NFL's "Player of the Year," Bruce Taylor was NFC "Rookie of the Year," Coach Dick Nolan was a near-unanimous choice as NFC "Coach of the Year." Brodie, receiver Gene Washington, linebacker Dave Wilcox and cornerback Jimmy Johnson were all-pro and joined by tackle Len Rohde in being selected for the Pro Bowl.

1971 — The 49ers forged a 9-5-0 record and won their second consecutive NFC Western Division title, clinching the crown on the final day by beating Detroit, 31-27, the identical score by which the Lions had knocked the 49ers out of championship play in the bitterly-remembered 1957 game. The season was also the club's first in its plush new home, Candlestick Park. Center Forrest Blue, linebacker Dave Wilcox and cornerback Jimmy Johnson were all-pro and joined in the Pro Bowl by Ted Kwalick, Gene Washington, Vic Washington, Cedrick Hardman and Bruce Taylor.

1972 — Early-season inconsistency compounded by an injury to John Brodie in the fifth game of the season cast appall on 49er prospects for a third-straight NFC Western Division title, but Steve Spurrier stepped in for Brodie and turned things around with a brilliant, poised performance. In the final quarter of the final game the recovered Brodie relieved Spurrier and threw two TD passes for a 20-17 win over Minnesota that clinched divisional title No. 3, but Spurrier's nine-game contribution was the key. Center Forrest Blue, defensive back Jimmy Johnson, tight end Ted Kwalick, wide receiver Gene Washington and linebacker Dave Wilcox were all-pro selections.

1973 — In what was both a disappointing and significant year, the 49ers were 5-9 after tackling the NFL's toughest schedule and falling victim to a rash of key injuries and an unsettled quarterback situation. It also marked the end of the brilliant careers of quarterback John Brodie and defensive tackle Charlie Krueger, both of whom retired at year's end. Center Forrest Blue and Dave Wilcox were all-pro and joined in the Pro Bowl by Ted Kwalick, Woody Peoples and Tom Wittum.

1974 — The 49ers used five different quarterbacks after an injury to starter Steve Spurrier a week before the season opened sidelined him for most of the year. After winning the first two games the club lost a team record seven straight and then closed with a rush, winning four of the last five games to finish the season at 6-8. Running back Wilbur Jackson was named The Sporting News "Rookie of the Year" and was named to the NFL All-Rookie team along with quarterback Tom Owen and defensive back Mike Holmes. Center Forrest Blue and punter Tom Wittum were All-NFC and selected for the Pro Bowl along with Jimmy Johnson. A knee injury forced perennial all-pro linebacker Dave Wilcox to retire after a brilliant 11-year career with the 49ers.

1975 — A strong defensive performance throughout the season couldn't offset an erratic offense troubled by an unsettled quarterback situation and a rebuilding offensive line. High point of the 5-9 season was a 24-23 win over Los Angeles to end a 10-game losing streak to the Rams. At season's end, defensive end Cedrick Hardman was the club's only all-pro selection and only player chosen for the Pro Bowl. Jimmy Johnson became the club's first-ever two-time Eshmont Award winner.

1976 — A turnaround year for the 49ers as the team, under coach Monte Clark, posted an 8-6 record, their first winning season since 1972. With new quarterback Jim Plunkett at the controls, the 49ers got off to their best start ever, 6-1, before hitting a mid-season four-game losing streak that knocked the club out of playoff contention. The season saw the emergence of a powerful defensive unit that led the league in quarterback sacks with 61. Delvin Williams set a 49ers single-season rushing record with his 1,203 yards on the ground. Tommy Hart was named all-pro and played in the Pro Bowl along with Williams, Cleveland Elam, and Dave Washington. Center Randy Cross was an All-Rookie team selection. Tommy Hart became a two-time winner of the Eshmont Award and Cornerback Jimmy Johnson retired after a brilliant 16-year career with the 49ers.

1977 — In the 32nd year of their existence, the 49ers began an all new era. On March 31, 1977, the club became the property of Edward J. DeBartolo, Jr. and came under the guidance of Joe Thomas as general manager. The changeover was made more dramatic because the San Francisco 49ers were one of the few NFL franchises which had never previously changed ownership or location. On the field, under Coach Ken Meyer, the 49ers ran hot and cold. The club lost its first five games, then won five of the next six before dropping the final three contests for a 5-9 record overall. Strong safety Mel Phillips was named winner of the coveted Eshmont Award. Cleveland Elam was selected all-pro and played for the NFC team in the Pro Bowl.

1978 — The 49ers suffered through their longest season as the club fell to 2-14 in '78 and three coaches were hired and fired in less than 12 months. First, Pete McCulley departed after nine games with a 1-8 record, and his replacement, Fred O'Connor, was let go at the end of the year as the team won just one of its final seven contests. Bill Walsh was hired as the new Coach and General Manager on January 9, 1979, replacing O'Connor as coach and Joe Thomas as General Manager. Running back Paul Hofer, who replaced acclaimed O.J. Simpson when the newly-acquired star went to the sidelines for the year with a shoulder injury, was named recipient of the Len Eshmont Award.

1979 — The 49ers suffered through their second consecutive 2-14 season, but there were several indications of improvement. San Francisco went from virtually the worst ranked offensive team in the league in '78 to one of the most productive offensive units in the NFL in '79, ranking first in passing offense in the NFC and sixth in total offense in the NFL. Running back Paul Hofer again was the Len Eshmont Award recipient and individual leader, racking up 615 yards rushing and an additional 662 yards receiving on 58 catches in only seven starts. Quarterback Steve DeBerg broke Fran Tarkenton's NFL record for completions by connecting on 347 passes. Kicker Ray Wersching set a club record 83.3 field goal percentage, also leading the league with that mark. No 49ers were named to the Pro Bowl squad. O.J. Simpson retired from the 49ers and the NFL, finishing as the second leading rusher of all time with 11,236 yards.

1980 — In their second season of the Bill Walsh era, the 49ers showed gradual improvement in their rebuilding program. A three-game winning streak to open the season, combined with a three-game victory string from Week 12 through Week 14 enabled the Niners to post a 6-10 season, tripling the number of victories from each of the previous two 2-14 campaigns. Week 14 was a day when the 49ers made NFL history. That Dec. 7 in Candlestick Park, the 49ers overcame a 35-7 halftime deficit to the New Orleans Saints to win in overtime, 38-35. The 28-point comeback was the biggest points-margin-comeback in NFL history. Randy Cross at guard and Fred Solomon as a punt returner were All-NFC selections by Pro Football Weekly. In addition, linebacker Bobby Leopold, defensive end Jim Stuckey and punter Jim Miller were named to All-Rookie teams, while another rookie, fullback Earl Cooper, led the NFC in receptions with a team-record 83, the most catches ever by an NFL rookie. Dwight Clark caught 82 passes to break the team wide receiver mark, and Joe Montana set the club passing percentage record at .645 with 176 completions in 273 attempts.

1981 — It was a year of firsts and bests for the 49ers in 1981. In his third season as head coach and general manager, Bill Walsh guided San Francisco to: a 16-3 record (best 1981 record in the league, fourth best in NFL history, and best ever for the 49ers), the NFC Western Division title (first since '72), the NFC Championship crown (first ever for the 49ers), and the World Championship/Super Bowl XVI win (first ever for the 49ers). Walsh was named to every possible NFC Coach-of-the-Year award and to all seven NFL Coach-of-the-Year honors, while six 49ers were named to the Pro Bowl — Dwight Clark, Randy Cross, Joe Montana, Fred Dean, Ronnie Lott, and Dwight Hicks. Three San Francisco players were selected to all-pro teams as recognized by the NFL — Cross, Lott and Dean. Montana, who led the NFC in passing in '81, was named MVP of Super Bowl XVI (for leading his team to a 26-21 win over the Cincinnati Bengals of the AFC). Dean was picked UPI NFL Defensive Player-of-the-Year, NFL Outstanding Defensive Lineman-of-the-Year (NFL Players Association), and NFC Defensive Player-of-the-Year (Kansas City Committee of the 101). San Francisco opened and closed the season in Pontiac, Mich., in drastically different styles. The 49ers lost two of their first three games of 1981, including that season opener on the road against Detroit, then ran off seven wins — before a loss to Cleveland 15-12 — and ran off eight more wins (including the playoffs, the NFC Championship, and Super Bowl XVI). The 49ers won 15 of their last 16 games, beat five opponents twice — including all three postseason foes — and became the first team since Chicago in 1945-46-47 to go from the worst NFL record (2-14 in 1979) to the league's best (13-3 in '81) in just three seasons. All this happened with three rookies (Carlton Williamson, Eric Wright, and Lott) starting in the defensive secondary. Those three rookies, along with Montana, Clark, Cross, Fred Solomon, and Hicks, combined with "old veterans" Dean and Jack "Hacksaw" Reynolds to form a nucleus of world championship vintage.

1982 — The defending world champions — the San Francisco 49ers — did not enjoy the 1982 season . . . but then, not many NFL fans, coaches and players throughout the league did either (except maybe in Washington, where the Redskins were Super Bowl XVII champs). The Niners fell to 3-6 and missed out on the playoffs in the strike-shortened season. San Francisco went winless at home (0-5) but did manage a 3-1 road record (the Niners were 0-2 prior to the 57-day players' strike and 3-4 following it). Dwight Clark had an outstanding season, leading the NFL with 60 receptions and being named consensus all-pro (and NFL Player-of-the-Year by Sports Illustrated). Keena Turner (2nd team all-pro), Ronnie Lott (Pro Bowl), Randy Cross (Pro Bowl), Dwight Hicks (Pro Bowl), Keith Fahnhorst, and Joe Montana (NFL record for five straight +300-yard passing games) were bright spots in an otherwise disappointing season.

1983 — For the second time in three seasons, San Francisco played in the NFC Championship Game . . . and almost returned to the Super Bowl. The '83 49ers were 10-6 (3rd best regular season victory total in club history) and Western Division Champions (5th time since 1970, 2nd time since 1981). In the playoffs, San Francisco squeezed past Detroit, 24-23, but lost to Washington, 24-21, in the NFC Championship contest. Individual standouts included: Joe Montana (the League's No. 1 all-time QB entering the 1984 season), Ronnie Lott (making his third Pro Bowl appearance in as many years), Fred Dean (leading the NFC in sacks with 17½), Dwaine Board (second in sacks with 13), Eric Wright (team leader in interceptions with seven . . . two for scores), Dwight Clark (team leader with 70 receptions and eight TDs), Fred Solomon (club record 21.4 yards per catch), Ray Wersching (team record 126 points, including a perfect 51 of 51 PATs), offensive linemen Randy Cross, Keith Fahnhorst, and John Ayers, running backs Roger Craig

(752 yards rushing, 427 receiving) and Wendell Tyler (856 rushing yards, 285 receiving), and NFL All-Rookie Team pick Riki Ellison (two interceptions in the playoffs).

1984 — The 49ers experienced the most successful regular season in NFL history by winning a League record 15 games, including all eight road contests — setting yet another NFL standard. The Niners broke 14 team records in '84, while becoming the first NFC team to sweep all of its conference games, and the first NFC West unit to win all contests within the division. Led by Roger Craig and Joe Montana, San Francisco capped the year by routing the Miami Dolphins in Super Bowl XIX, 38-16. The win was the 18th victory of the '84 campaign, establishing an NFL standard for wins in a single season (including playoffs). San Francisco scored 30-or-more points in 10 games on its way to a team-record 475 points. The 49ers defense was the stingiest in the NFL in '84, allowing a League low 227 points scored. The play of the Niners special teams was exciting and inspired ... the units ranked among the League leaders in most coverage categories. Honors were numerous, including Pro Bowl recognition for 10 of Bill Walsh's charges — Joe Montana, Wendell Tyler, Keith Fahnhorst, Randy Cross, and Fred Quillan on offense and Dwight Hicks, Ronnie Lott, Carlton Williamson, and Eric Wright (the entire Niners' secondary); and Keena Turner on defense.

1985 — At 10-6, San Francisco qualified for postseason play for the fourth time since 1981. Despite a big 34-10 win over the Raiders in L.A., errors and poor execution haunted the team through the first seven games as the squad registered a 3-4 mark. The season turned in Week Eight as San Francisco jumped out to a 28-0 first half lead over the host L.A. Rams, and cruised to a 28-14 victory. That win launched a drive to the playoffs that saw the Niners win seven of their last nine games, climaxing with a come-from-behind victory over the Dallas Cowboys (in the regular season finale) to secure a spot in postseason action. Offensively, Roger Craig and Jerry Rice emerged as potent weapons in the attack. Craig became the first NFL player to surpass 1,000 yards rushing and receiving in the same season. Rice was named NFC Rookie-of-the-Year and set the team record for the first-year players with 927 receiving yards. The defense experienced the influx of four new starters in '85 (Carter, LB Todd Shell, LB Michael Walter, and DE John Harly), and a position switch between Lott and Dwight Hicks. Carter won a berth on the Pro Bowl team (with his dominant plays at nose tackle), as did defensive back Eric Wright and Carlton Williamson.

1986 — The 49ers captured their fourth NFC Western Division title since 1981. By winning three of their final four games (all against division-leaders) to finish 10-5-1, San Francisco made a playoff appearance for the fifth time in the last six seasons. It was the fourth straight postseason berth for the Niners, as well, tying San Francisco with the Los Angeles Rams for the NFL's longest current consecutive playoff streak.

Offensively, the team was led by all-pro wide receiver Jerry Rice, who paced the NFL with 1,570 receiving yards and 15 touchdowns. Those marks established club standards in addition to Rice's team-record 16 total scores. He was voted a starter in the annual NFC-AFC Pro Bowl, and was named Sports Illustrated's Player-of-the-Year.

The defense managed 49 takeaways, tying the Kansas City Chiefs for NFL leadership. San Francisco's 39 interceptions and 578 return yards set team records, while five scores on pick-off returns tied another club mark. Ronnie Lott tied Dave Baker's 1960 team record with 10 interceptions, while Lott's 76 tackles were one short of team leader Carlton Williamson's 77 stops. In his first full season at free safety, Lott was selected to the NFC Pro Bowl team and was a consensus all-pro.

The output by young players was vital due to major injuries suffered by many starting veterans. San Francisco made 20 roster moves during the season, shuffling players in and out of action. Quarterback Joe Montana missed Weeks 2-9 due to back surgery, for example, while backup signal-caller Jeff Kemp did not play Weeks 8-11 due to a hip injury. The team suited-up only 39 players, and started third-string quarterback Mike Moroski at Green Bay in Week 8. Six first-team players spent time on injured reserve during the year, as San Francisco starters totaled 61 games missed due to injury.

49ers' DRAFT PRE-1950

Held December 20-21, 1946

The AFFC's first draft was held in the same manner as the NFL draft—teams drafting in inverse order of finish. Buffalo, which had finished the 1946 season with the same record as Brooklyn, drafted second in each round, however, with Brooklyn drafting third. Although Miami was no longer in the league by the time the 1947 season was played, it was at the time of the draft. Miami's selections later were granted to the new Baltimore Colts. Prior to the regular draft, "special selections" were made. It is not known why these selections weren't part of the regular draft or in what order they were made. All teams had two, except Buffalo, which had five, and the Los Angeles Dons and San Francisco, which had one each. Most likely, Los Angeles and San Francisco each traded one of its choices to Buffalo. The regular draft was 15 rounds, followed by a "supplemental draft," in which various teams didn't get choices. From rounds 16 through 20, Cleveland and the New York Yankees didn't make selections. From rounds 21 through 25, Cleveland, New York, San Francisco, and Los Angeles didn't receive selections. Like current NFL drafts, the AAFCC drafts indicated an overall order of selection, which is shown by a number after each player's school.

Held December 16, 1947

The draft increased to 30 rounds, and the best teams from the preceding season again received fewer choices, but this year those lost selections were earlier in the draft than in 1947. Each team selected in the first round. The next nine rounds varied greatly. In the second round, only the Chicago Rockets and Baltimore received a choice. In the third, seventh, and ninth rounds, each team made a selection. In the fourth and sixth rounds, Cleveland and the New York Yankees didn't receive selections. In the fifth round, only the Rockets, Baltimore, and Brooklyn received picks. And in the eighth and tenth rounds, only the Rockets, Baltimore, Brooklyn, and the Los Angeles Dons received picks. After the tenth round, each team made selections throughout the next 20 rounds.

Held December 21, 1948

In determining the draft order, the divisional playoff game between Buffalo and Baltimore was added to the regular season finish. This made the order of selection for the three teams that had tied during the regular season Baltimore (7-8), the Los Angeles Dons (7-7), and Buffalo (8-7). For the first time in the AAF, there were several trades for selections. There were 29 rounds, and again the teams with a lower finish in 1946 received more selections. Each team received a first-round choice. The Chicago Rockets, the New York Yankees, and Baltimore received a second-round selection, and Brooklyn received a third-round pick. Every team then selected in each round through the sixteenth. Everyone but Cleveland and San Francisco made choices from rounds 17 through 21, and then just Chicago, Brooklyn, and New York from rounds 22 through 242. Each selected again in round 25, and each team except Chicago, Brooklyn, and New York from rounds 26 through 30.

Maybe it's time you had one for your telecommunications system.

Imagine what it would look like if a football team decided to "wing it" out there on the field without a game plan. It would look pretty silly, wouldn't it?

Well, that's exactly what many companies do when it comes to planning and designing telecommunications systems. The results are costly.

That's where we come in to play. You see, we can show you the most cost effective way to handle your information. No matter how unusual your needs are. In fact, we're the telecommunications consultant to the Super Bowl and a number of NFL teams. We provide dozens of communication systems that enable the press to get their stories out, spotters to talk with their coaches, and stadium security to talk to each other.

If we can't do all that, just think of what we can do for you.

Isn't it time you had a game plan for your telecommunications system? Get in touch with us at 1-800-237-GTEL. Your GTEL account manager will be glad to help you draw one up.
